poorly in global index

16th, Worse Than Its Neighbouring Countries

The index scores reflect the average level of performance across a set of eight indicators related to child health, education, labour, marriage, childbirth and violence million youth of upper secondary age are not in school. While India has the highest number of stunted children in the world, it also accounts for the largest number of child labourers under age 14 among all na-

Data show India's worst performance was in indicators which reflect safeguarding the girl child. For instance, 10.3 crore girls in India were married before they had turned 18 and 50% of all adolescent births oc cur in just seven countries which includes India. The stun ting rate among Indian girls is their fifth birthday, whereas 47 also very high with one-third of girls aged 15-19 being stunted even as in most countries stun-ting rates are higher for boys

Stunted growth is caused by chronic malnutrition in the first 1,000 days of a child's life from the start of pregnancy to age 2). Chronic malnutrition at this stage of life is largely irreversible, and stunted children face a lifetime of lost opportunities in education and work. Suchchildren are also more likely to succumb to illness and disease. Nearly half of all deaths in children under 5 years of age are attributable to under nutri-

en Childhoods': India Varanasi to have country's first 'Freight Village'

Dipak.Dash@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Varanasi will get the country's first 'Fre-ight Village' spread over around 100 acres. The plan to set up this project close to the upcoming multi-mode terminal along the Ganga has attracted major players including Dubai Port World and IL&FS.

Sources said Sharaf Group of Abu Dhabi, a global player in shipping, logistics and supply chain is also keen in this project. They added the big facility will not only bring investment but will also generate jobs.

A 'Freight Village' is a specialised industrial estate which attracts companies that require logistics services and can cluster to improve their competitiveness. This will allow relocation of A 'Freight Village' is a specialised industrial estate which attracts companies that require logistics services and can cluster to improve their competitiveness tors and logistics service providers supplying the re-gional fast moving consumer goods market. Due to its proximity to the main city, it will serve as a distribution centre and as a point of transfer between long distance transport by truck, rail and waterway and short distance distribution with delivery vans.

'Freight Village' includes an inter-modal terminal, which facilitates integration between different modes of transport, thereby offering choice and selection of the best possible cost and time effective transport chainforshippers.

Officials said World

Bank has taken the lead to put the project in place which will provide connectivity to Eastern Dedicated Freight Corridor (EDFC), the country's longest waterway and the national high-way as well. Inland Waterway Authority of India (IWAI) is already building a multi-modal freight terminal in Varanasi along the Ganga. This terminal includes construction of a jetty for freight vessels and facilities for passengers. It will provide opportunities to mo-ve about 6-9 lakh tonnes of local and regional freight by inland waterways.
